City Is Offered VA Play Center

McKinney's phenomenal good luck in acquiring recreational areas for practically nothing held true, again, Wednesday.

Assistant Manager Kenneth J. O'Brien of The Veterans Administration Hospital here presented plans which he feels that Washington will approve offering the baseball field, lights, bleachers, the golf course and the recreational picinic area of the VA to the City of McKinney for a sum of $1.00 a year.

The offer came in a meeting at the City Hall called by Mayor Bill West and attended by the City Commission, representatives of veterans organizations, service clubs, the Chamber of Commerce, Junior Chamber of Commerce, press, radio and other groups.

Mayor West presided and introduced Emory Davis, president of the Junior Chamber of Commerce. He also introduced Mr. O'Brien.

The Veterans Administration first contacted the Jaycees several days ago concerning the use of the recreational facilities mentioned above. The VA offered to lease these facilities to any responsible civic group for one dollar per year.

The Jaycees, heavily engaged in civic activities at the present time including their fine work with the Jaycee Center, are helping Mayor West coordinate the efforts of McKinney as a whole to look into the matter with a strong possibility that it will become a reality.

Included in the offer is all the government owned land North of the hospital and all of the land West of the hospital, a total of more than 150 acres. Included also is a large amount of equipment such as mowing machines for the golf course, bleachers, lights and backstop for the baseball field. The picnic area in the extreme Northwest corner of the grounds is one of the finest in North Texas.

Water supply is ample with connections into the VA water system which uses McKinney city water.

The golf course was built as a part of the recreational facilities when the hospital was established here during the early years of World War II. It is an excellent course, which has not been officially maintained by the VA for several years. A volunteer group from the hospital staff and employees banded together as a club has maintained the course during these years. The baseball field is the only regulation baseball diamond in McKinney for senior type baseball that is lighted. It was suggested that the baseball field could be moved to the Southern part of the recreation area leaving space for a golf driving range between it and the golf course.

At the conclusion of the meeting, President Davis of the Jaycees asked that all representatives present report back to their respective organizations and have a member of each appointed to a committee to meet in a few days and go into the matter more thoroughly.

Assisting Mr. O'Brien for the Veterans Administration was Harvey Wilkes, engineer officer of the hospital, here.

Horace H. Neilson, McKinney attorney, former football star at the University of Texas and long time civic and sports leader of the city, opened the gathering with prayer.

Several speakers during the meeting emphasized the magnificent opportunity which this offer gives McKinney and surrounding territory. This would give McKinney one of the best if not the best park and recreational facilities of any city its size in the Southwest including two excellent nine-hole golf courses.

The VA course, laid in a fine native setting of trees and undulating Collin County blackland. Its greens, among the best to be found anywhere, were built at an initial cost of several thousands dollars each.

Most of its hazards are natural, adding to the sporting quality and beauty of the course.

The course was designed and built under the supervision of Ben Hogan of Fort Worth, probably the greatest golfer of all time, while he was serving in the U.S. Army during the war.

WILL McKINNEY meet the challenge? That seems to be the paramount issue that is facing the Citizens of this community. A meeting last week with the City Commission, the City was offered the baseball field, lights, bleachers, the golf course and the picnic area of the VA for the sum of $1.00 a year. McKinney, if it grows, needs an overall park system and this would be a great inducement in securing industry. As one citizen stated, at the meeting: "When you are talking to prospective businesses about locating in McKinney, one of the first things that is asked: "What kind of recreation facilities do you have?" And at the present time, you have to answer in the negative.

We should not pass up this opportunity and should do everything possible to develop an overall park system. It's an investment in a future progressive McKinney. Just like the muchly needed auditorium, McKinney needs a meeting place.

It has been suggested that the present Coliseum be sold. This, at the present, Your Home Towners cannot agree to. The present building which is located on a lot, with plenty of parking area, IS PAID FOR and you could not get within 50 cents on the dollar what it is actually worth.

TALKING TO a McKinneyite regarding Mother's Day he said: "We had a wonderful time with Mother Sunday, presents galore and home coming." When asked what he gave his dear old Mother, he replied, "a safety razor, shaving cream and lotion." Brother, what a wonderful present for mother.

FROM REPORTS over the County the night patrol working out of the Sheriff's office is paying off. We need another night patrol in West Collin. Talking to one of the South's best Sheriff's, he made this remark: "I have men working tough districts that very seldom make an arrest but the crooks and hoodlums know that they are on the job and we keep them on the move." We had better get some law enforcement on Lavon Lake area, if not the "HOODLUMS WILL TAKE IT OVER" and then the decent people will not go down for recreation. It's later than you think, Mr. County Judge and Commissioners Court.

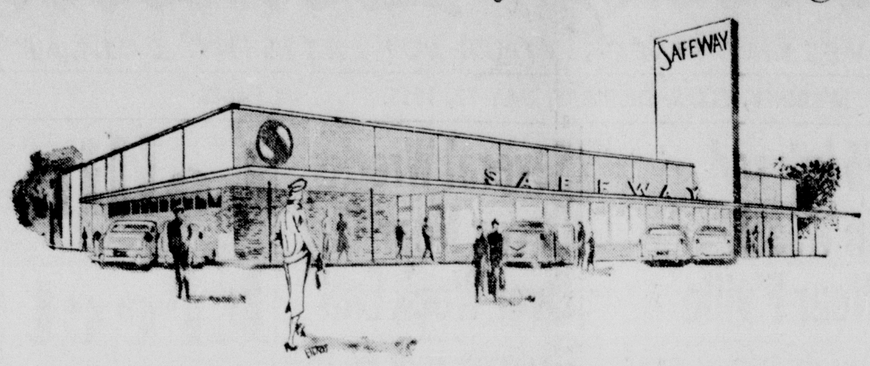
Work On New Safeway Store To Begin



Construction of a $240,000 super market by Safeway Stores, Inc., will begin here Monday, May 16, according to an announcement made this week by the company. The new store will be located on a 160,000 square foot lot located on North Tennessee Street, the propery facing on Tennessee, Josephine and Midway streets.

Ira C. Kiker Jr., of Dallas, public relations manager for Safeway Stores, Inc., was in McKinney Wednesday completing plans with Royal A. Stephenson, local manager. The contractor is Hagler Construction Company, of Dallas.

Earl Cliff, of Dallas is division manager and E. L. McIntosh, retail operations manager. The district manager is Carl Foster.

The Safeway Store here, which has been in operation in McKinney for the past 25 years, has outgrown itself twice, being first located on the Northeast corner of the public square. Six years ago the store moved to its present quarters on South Kentucky Street.

The new location, formerly known as the Church property, was purchased about a year ago from Dr. Scott Wysong. The modern building of brick and masonry will be 115 by 140 feet, or 16,100 square feet. The spacious concrete parking area will care for 175 cars at a time, and the lot will be lighted by mercury vapor lights.

The parking lot will have four entrances from Tennessee street and one each from Midway and Josephine streets.

The entire front of the modern super market will be glass, trimmed in Roman brick. Double automatic doors will open into the year-round air-conditioned building, with spacious lobby back of which are ten check-out counters. At the Southwest corner of the store will be a 60-foot sign tower in brilliant colors. A scientific color design has been planned throughout the handsome new store which will be in the latest architectural design.

Every department will be commodiously arranged for the convenience of the customer. The produce department will occupy a full length of the building on one side, where fruit and vegetables will be attractively displayed. Back of this is the work room, which will be refrigerated at 55 degrees at all times, where the produce is prepared for display. Two walk-in refrigerators will store the produce and all display counters will be filled from the back, rather than in front, as heretofore.

The back side of the store will house the meat department, where meat display counters will be filled with packaged cuts. The work room, back of the display, will be at 55 degrees temperature, where cutting and packaging is done. There will be six wrapping stations, and a conveyer extending the full length of the work room where merchandise is passed, as it is processed, before being put on display. Adjoining the workroom will be a walk-in room for smoked and cured meats; another cooler for fresh meats, and a third room where the freshly cut meat is cooled for display counter temperature. The counters will be serviced from the cutting room.

Another department which offers convenience for the shopper is the dairy food section, back of which is the walk-in dairy cooler and display counter. Storage for these foods is also available in this area.

The center of the store will have long counters, for grocery items with six counters, 36 feet long, holding dry groceries. 70 feet of frozen food will be arranged in the center of the store where they may be picked up last by the shopper.

On the mezzanine floor will be the manager's office, and also lockers and rest rooms for the employes. Immediately below the manager's office will be a teller's booth, with two windows, where checks may be cashed, or change made, before going to the checking stand if necessary.

The building will also contain a large equipment room ,where the air-conditioning and refrigerator units are maintained.

The facilities of the store will be attractive and well-lighted, with up-to-date fixtures which are fully adequate for displaying merchandise and refrigerating perishables. The cooler and freezer storage rooms will protect these perishables until they are ready for sale.

The same design planned for the McKinney store, is being used in three other super markets under construction by Safeway at the present time. They are located at Weatherford, which will open this month; Austin, which will be ready for business in June; and Wichita Falls, which will open in July.

The contract calls for 180 working days, and it is expected to have the new McKinney Safeway store ready for business next November.

Employes of the local store are Royal A. Stephenson, manager; Virgil Stogdill, head meat cutter; Charles Edwards, meat cutter; Mrs. J. B. Hodge, and Mrs. Ida Reeves, meat wrappers; Mrs. Bernice Belt, Mrs. Sylvia Corzine and Mrs. Treva Gant, checkers; W. E. Ellis, Aubrey Kerr, Charles Triplett and Jimmy Wallis grocery clerks; R. A. Nixon Jr., head produce clerk; E. M. Foster, parking lot employe; John C Mack, colored porter; McKinney high school boys who work after school and on Saturdays are Arvis Buchanan George Comegys, William Ellenburg, Benny Haney, J. B. Morris.

ROTATION GRAZING . . . GREATEST GRAZING EFFICIENCY FROM YOUR PASTURE

Rotation grazing is essential to good pasture management

"Cattle feeding continuously on a pasture can trample a lot of good grazing into the ground," E. M. Trew, extension pasture specialist, says. "Grazing efficiency studies show that often only 50 percent of the grazing produced is eaten by livestock."

Pasture rotation "rations out" the grazing and forces livestock to remove all the growth from a small area in a short time. Under rotation, plants may be grazed when most platable and are giving opportunity for regrowth and rest between grazings.

Since rotation grazing calls for cross-fencing, the use of inexpensive, portable electric fences is recommended.

Many stockman who practice rotation will have more grass from now until about July 1 than they can use. If the supply outstrips demand, bale or ensile the excess for feed insurance.

Mowing is important to proper pasture management for two reasons: to control weeds and to prevent plants into new growth. Mowing during the growing season keeps plants in a vegetative, nutritious condition.

Other investments of time and labor which go into improved pastures are wasted, however, unless there is ample fertility in the soil. A soil test tells the right kind and amounts of fertilizer you need.

Animals grazing lush, fast growing pasture will need some dry hay,

Many stockmen meet this requirement by mowing several strips across their pasture. This way, cattle pick up the dry grass as needed.

STATE COTTON INSECT CONTROLS EARLY . . . AND PROFIT

Texas farmers are urged to get the jump on costly cotton insects by starting insect control measures early.

"Cotton starts off faster, fruits earlier and yields higher when early season insect control practices are followed, "Dr. F. M. Fuller, extension entomologist, says.

Initial dust or spray treatment should be made when cotton reaches the two to four leaf stage or earlier if necessary. Two to four applications of insecticides usually will control the season's offender's — thrips, red spiders, aphibs, fleahopper and overwintered boll weevils.

Unless fleahoppers and boll weevil infestations remain injurious, the early season phase of insect control should be curtailed about 30 days before the bollworm normally appears. This allows time for a build up of beneficial insects which also help control bollworms.

Sprays are more effective and economical than dust on young cotton.

More information on early season control is given in the 1955 Guide for Controlling Cotton Insects in Texas. This guide lists each recommended insecticide and its rate of application. The bulletin, L-218 also contains a detailed program for last season control of cotton insects. Available from the local county agents, this bulletin is free for the asking.

PLANNING THE DAY'S MEAL

The problem of planning and preparing three meals every day is a real one to many homemakers. To avoid monotony in meals and to meet daily requirements for all family members are two of the main considerations.

If this is a chore for you, here are some suggestions by Jimmie Nell Harris, Extension Food Specialist that may help you with planning:

Plan your meals several days in advance. Write them down. Check food on hand and supplement them from your grocer.

Follow a guide that shows daily food requirements. Each meal as well as the day's total should be balanced. Miss Harris suggests the Texas Food Standard, copies of which may be obtained from your county home demonstration agent.

To gve variety to a meal try making a list of foods or food combinations from which you may choose.

Remember the likes and dislikes of your family. Add new and different foods gradually and prepare them attractively.

Miss Harris says the best way to become skilled in meal planning is to practice it. The health of the family depends to a great extent on the family dinner table.

For variety. Add one or more of the following: a few tablespoons chopped parsely, green onion, or water cress . . . ½ cup thinly sliced chinese cabbage or celery . . thin wedges of tomato . .10 to 12 sweet onion rings or cucumber slices . . . a few sliced radishes . . .some fine strips of pimento or some coarsely grated carrot.

CORNBREAD

1 cup yellow corn meal

2-3 cup chopped nuts

Stir shortening just to soften. Sift in dry ingredients. Add bananas and half the buttermilk; mix until all four is dampened. Then beat vigorously for 2 minutes. Add remaining buttermilk, eggs; beat 2 minutes longer. Fold in nuts. Bake in 2 paper-lined 9 x 1½ inch round pans in moderate oven (350 degrees) 30 to 35 minutes.

TIMELY TIPS

Preserve the fresh crispness of green salad vegetables by cutting or shredding them just before serving the salad.

Toss salad vegetables lightly with the dressing, or serve the dressing separately.

Wash fresh vegetables throughly, using plenty of water for leafy greens. Lift vegetable out of the water instead of pouring the water off the vegetables. In that way, grit, which settles to the bottom of the pan isn't poured back over the vegetables.

Designates Soil Conservation Week

Soil Conservation District Week is officially recognized for Texas for the week of May 9 through 15. Governor Shivers signs the proclamation in the presence of 19 directors of the Association of Texas Soil Conservation District Supervisors.

NEWS FROM THE BOARD OF SUPERVISORS — of — THE COLLIN CO. SOIL CONSERVATION DIST.

In connection with the first nation wide observance of Soil Stewardship Sunday, May 15, the Collin Soil Conservation District is doing its part in reminding the public of Man's responsibility for stewardship of the earth. The District Board of Supervisors is cooperating with the ministers on program and sermon ideas.

In Texas, Governor Shivers has proclaimed the week of May 9 through 15 as Soil Conservation District Week. Locally, organized Districts throughout our state will be stressing that everyone use the soil efficiently and at the same time protect the soil. Soil Stewardship Sunday, being observed during this same week, will give the ministers an opportunity to prepare sermons concerning Man's moral obligation of using natural resources properly.

Soil Stewardship Sunday in America had its formal beginning in 1946 when the publishers of "Farm and Ranch" magazine suggested to the religious leaders of a few southern states that they set aside one Sunday each year to remind their congregations of Man's duty to be a good steward of the land. The fifth Sunday after Easter was suggested. The magazine offered to provide sermon suggestions, selected Biblical quotations, and references to factual sources material.

So great was the response of ministers and laymen that observance of Soil Stewardship Sunday rapidly spread to numerous other states within the magazine's circulation area. In 1954, the publishers of "Farm and Ranch" magazine suggested to the National Association of Soil Conservation Districts that wider observance of Soil Stewardship Sunday could aid materially in bringing about a national re-awakening of Man's obligation to the land. The publishers offered to relinguish their limited sponsorship of Soil Stewardship Sunday to the Association. The National Association of Soil Conservation Districts was pleased to accept this offer and assume responsibility for encouraging nation wide observance of Soil Stewardship Sunday.

McKinney Area Volunteer Council To Be Organized

Forty-eight percent of the patients at McKnight Tuberculosis Hospital are leaving before recovery. These people, bearing a dangerously contagious disease, are returning to their homes in their community to endanger every man, woman and child with whom they come in contact.

To raise the morale, provide recreation and training facilities, and offer personalized comfort and attention to insure that patients remain hospitalized until cure is affected, the McKnight Area Volunteer Council is being organized.

Tuberculosis patients of 166 counties of Central and West Texas, are being served by McKnight Sanatorium near San Angelo. Captain Rod Eddy, USMC, newly appointed chairman of the council, stresses, "Since the health of every person may be jeopardized by patients who return to their homes against medical advice, activities of the new council concern each individual and organization of the entire McKnight area."

The Volunteer group, formed this week at the hospital, includes districts known as the McKnight Area Volunteer Councils of Amarillo, Lubbock, Midland-Odessa, El Paso, Wichita Falls, Dallas-Fort Worth, Waco, Austin, Del Rio-Eagle Pass, Abilene, and San Angelo. Other districts may be set up by division as required by future activity. District chairmen and vice chairmen will be apopinted this month. They will communicate with all interested persons in their areas.

Jack Andersons On Don McNeal Breakfast Club Radio Show

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Anderson spent several days last week in Chicago where they attended the national convention of the Liquified Petroleum Gas Association. Their headquarters were at the Conrad-Hilton Hotel, however the Andersons also enjoyed several entertaining events, other than the convention.

They were on the Don McNeal Breakfast Club radio show one morning and attended an ice show on another occasion.

The convention program was outstanding in its speakers and entertainment, one of the speakers being Dean Clarence E. Marion, former Dean of the law school at Notre Dame. Dean Manion will be remembered as one of the speakers at the recent Second District of Federated Women's Club convention held in McKinney. The highlight of the convention was the closing night floor show which featured the Purdue University Glee Club.

Mr. and Mrs. Anderson made the trip to and from Chicago by plane.

Seen About Town

By CAPT. ROY F. HALL

Our restaurants and eating places in town have all gone modern. Used to you could place an order in one of them, and amuse yourself reading the signs in conspicious locations. Not any more; they are all prettied up. Such placards as, "If our chicken is tough, don't cuss. Respect the aged," and "Don't say you will 'hand it to us' when you pass out the door. We have had it handed to us too much now," and "Two on a raft, shipwrecked, 25 cents," are no more. In their places you will find lovely girls and picture windows. Perhaps we, as a people, are growing up.

House sparrow building a nest in the stop light at Davis and Tennessee Streets. Carrying feathers, he wouldn't go in unless the light was on red. Fact. Watched him a half hour.

Talked to a young, recently married doctor the other day, and told him that it was a wonder that any doctor got married; seeing in a pretty girl only 115 pounds of protoplasm, bones and arteries. He said, "You know, that does bother me at times." Apparently it is not a joke at all.

Two men standing in front of Arthur Covington's machine shop and talking about the Collin County Mill and Elevator Company. One said, "That mill was one of the best in the state when built, and now it is a white elephant on the Burrus Milling Company." The other agreed. It was one of the best, but the general idea that it a great expense is erroneous. The storage capacity of the elevator is very great, and brings in between $75,000 and $100,000 a year on government-stored wheat. Several night and day watchmen are employed there all the time.

In looking over the pictures and placards displayed in the post office, I failed to see one that showed any fighting men. All are doing something that is peculiar to civilian life, and all the vocations shown were on the glamorous side. Fifty years ago a young man joined the service to fight; today, it seems, he joins to learn a vocation. In the Russian war machine there are one combat soldier to four in the rear to keep him supplied. In our own services we hav one soldier in the front lines and forty behind him. Paper work. The services are slaves to it. Unless an officer is a good paper man nowadays he has a poor chance to advance in rank.

In going around town I noted the number of domestic animals in the city; cows, goats, sheep and horses. I wonder if we do not have too much of this. City Hall might make a canvas and get the exact data on this condition. A cow, maybe; but herds?

It is hard for boys to find a place to hunt and fish these days, but several youngsters of the town; A. T. Griffin, Eustace Atterberry, Jim Duer, Edgar Renfro, Wilfred Dungan, Bobby Klien and Roy Hall, Jr. scour the woods anyway. The boys have learned to be dead shots with .22s, and have quite a collection of young squirrels, coons, owls and opossums. They hunt several days of the week, but never shoot at cranes, birds or any beneficial wild life. Real woodsmen.

Chance of rain about Saturday and Sunday. Small grain is suffering for moisture, but a rain within a week would save it from much damage. In about a week pecan and walnut trees will be in blossom, and I am informed that if it rains during the week or so they are blossoming the pollen will be washed off, and there will be no nuts.

Obsequies For Mrs. Mary Ellen Anderson Are Held Monday

Roy Ivie Wins Arion Award At Band Concert

Roy Melton Ivie, son of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Ivie, was the recipient of the Arion award presented by the McKinney Lions Club at the annual school band concert at Boyd High School. The presentation, to the outstanding senior band student, was made by President Murdock Cooper of the Lions Club.

One Senior student, who is either a member of the band, orchestra or chorus of Boyd High School, is eligible for the award, based upon his contribution to the music department of the school.

As a member of the band, he has been drum major, is a member of the school orchestra, and has participated in most of the school programs through his High School career. He has won top honors on many occasions for twirling in state and district contests. His pleasing personality, as well as his splendid ability have made Roy one of Boyd High School's most popular students, with teachers as well as his classmates.

Requirements for winning the coveted Arion award included better than average scholastic standing, cooperation over and above normal duties, general musicianship, music performance, attendance, ambition, diligence, inspiration to others, personal habits and qualifications to carry on the best traditions of the school.

These editors join the host of friends of this talented young students in offering congratulations upon his recent honor and predict for him continued success and achievement in the field of music.

City-County To Observe National Hospital Week

Joseph F. McWilliams, administrator of the City-County Hospital, McKinney, Texas, announces that National Hospital Week, May 8-14, offers a good opportunity to take stock of our hospitals.

The American Hospital Association has chosen as the theme of the week, "Your Hospital—A Tradition of Service," which best sums up hospitals' accomplishments and continuing goal.

The City-County Hospital of McKinney is joining in the observance of this National Hospital Week and a few statistical facts about your hospital will give the people of the community a better understanding of the services rendered during the year of 1954. There were 2,877 admissions, 436 babies born in the hospital, and 1,484 patients treated in the Emergency Room. The average daily census was 45.4 for the year with an average length of stay per patient of 5.4 days. Your City-County Hospital employs from 85 to 95 people. There were 74,114 meals served in the hospital during the year.

The American Hospital Association gives some interesting facts on a national basis and we learn that from the 178 hospitals and 34,000 beds listed in the first hospital census in 1873, the list has grown to some 7,000 hospitals with a bed total in excess of 1,500,000. The growth figures are impressive but more impressive are the advances in hospital care administered within these institutions.

In the last 20 years alone the length of stay of the average patient in a general hospital in the United States has dropped from 14 to 9 days. The reduction in length of stay, and also the drop in the hospital mortality rate, results from many advances in medical research and from improvements in hospital administration.

The last 50 years have seen a vast number of changes in the concept of hospitals and the care rendered. Each stride forward in technological procedures and medical science has increased the people's demand for hospital service.

We have come to rely increasingly on the hospital as a health center and to take its activities for granted.

We are reminded that National Hospital Week provides us with an opportunity to recognize the complex of activities that takes place within our hospitals. It is a chance to salute the entire hospital team.

The hospital personnel joins with Mr. McWilliams in inviting the people of the community to visit their hospital during National Hospital Week and to become better acquainted with the different phases of hospital operation.

William Arnold of Melissa, who attends Baylor University, spent the week-end at his home.

Johnny Ray, of Amarillo, is spending his vacation with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Ray, at Altoga.

Camp Fire Girls Fund Drive Gets Underway

The annual Camp Fire Girls fund drive got off to a good start Monday morning with the "kick off" meeting held at 9:30 o'clock at the Town House Restaurant. Worley Smith, finance chairman for the Collin County Council of Camp Fire Girls, Inc., presided over the meeting during which time he presented Mrs. Harold Frazier Council president, and Mrs. W. W. Ball, camp fire director.

Doughnuts and coffee were served during the meeting, with Rev. T. W. Sisterson giving the invocation. He also made a short talk outlining the purpose and aims of camp fire work. He is an enthusiastic supporter of the program, being a former member of the Council.

Chairman Smith distributed kits, and assigned territories to the men who are making the fund drive. Eighteen teams, of two men each, are covering all business houses in the city, while over 400 letters have been mailed to parents and others, interested in the work, soliciting their contributions.

Anyone who is not contacted during this campaign, and who desires to make a donation, may send checks to Worley Smith, McKinney. Through the Collin County Camp Fire Girls organization, some 150 girls have been enrolled in the program. Each year the number of Blue Bird and Camp Fire Girls groups is increased. It is hoped to make next year's program bigger, with new groups introduced in all sections of the city.

The needs of the organization are carefully studied and the finances closely watched and administered. The cost per girl is approximately $10.00, and in order to continue the training program, summer camp and other activities, a substantial fund is needed. Through the contributions of our townspeople this most worthy organization is enabled to function. Remember, it is "better to build youth than to mend adults." Your contribution to the drive is not a donation to charity, but an investment in youth and future citizens of McKinney and Collin County.

Jack Johnson, of Westminster, who has been ill, is improving.

City Federation Holds Spring Meeting Tuesday

The City Federation met in the Memorial Public Library Tuesday afternoon, May 3, for the Spring meeting. Mrs. Jim Dowell, president, presided over the meeting. Twelve of the 19 clubs were represented.

The group voted for officers to hold office for two years, instead of one, as in the past.

The By-laws were revised by a committee consisting of Mrs. Jim Dowell, Mrs. Joe McKinney, Miss Frances Mesuse, Mrs. John Davis and Mrs. Charles McKissick. The revision as presented by the committee, was accepted.

In the coming year, beginning in November, a 25-cent fine for absent members and 10 cents for tardiness, was voted.

Clubs have been asked to make donations toward a fund for chairs, table and book racks for the library.

During the meeting Miss Annie Bell Kerr, librarian, gave her quarterly report.

Miss Sue McDonald Is Outstanding 4-H Club Girl

Sue McDonald of the Alla 4-H Club has done an outstanding job in frozen foods and electric demonstrations. Sue has done the freezing in her home and has found that frozen foods are quick and easy to prepare. She has found freezing to be very interesting and spends much time with helping her mother in the garden and preparing foods to be frozen.

The McDonald family has a 20 foot freezer at home and Sue has helped freeze 133 quarts of vegetables, 130 quarts of fruits, 15 quarts of berries, 95 pounds of chicken and 300 pounds of beef. Sue has also frozen cakes, pies, cookies and sandwiches for the daily lunches.

Sue and Keith Murphy have done a lot of nice work in electricity. They have entered contests in electricity and have always come back with a great accomplishment. Not always do they win with a high rate, but always feel that they have gained something by going and presenting their demonstration. This team keeps the public address system going at school and at home.

Not only has Sue done freezing and electricity, she also sews. She entered a dress in the county fair last year, and one in the state fair winning a blue ribbon and $9.00. Sue is the junior leader of the junior 4-H club at Alla and has 39 members. She has given demonstration in making aprons and one in seam finishings, and is doing a great job with the younger 4-H'ers. Sue enjoys her 4-H work very much and is doing a great job in leadership. During the past seven years of club work, she has served as president and reporter and council secretary for 1954-55. Sue has a great ambition and I know she will succeed.

Former M'Kinney Man Prominent In Art Circles, San Antonio

The item below appeared recently in a San Antonio paper, written by Miriam McGary. The article concerns a former McKinney resident, Ralph Organ, who is well-known here. He came to Collin County when he was a 10-year-old boy, working as a messenger boy for the Western Union. He later became operator for the local office, and after a short time was promoted to manager, which position he held for several years. He has been with the Telephone company in San Antonio for the past twenty-five years. Mr. Organ is the brother of Mrs. J. R. Frisby of the Cottage Hill community.

If a man and wife run their home well, why shouldn't it follow that they would make good rulers of the roost in their club?

The River Art group thinks so, and for that reason elected a Mr. and Mrs. for the first time to hold the two top offices in their organization at the annual business meeting Sunday. Joyce Organ is new president and her husband, Ralph is her new executive vice president.

Re winning second place, Mr. Organ quips: "It's not a new office for me. I've been taking orders from her for the past 17 years."

The new team came about because the art group learned through experience that no matter who was president, his or her mate has had to share the burden of responsibility without title. The new president says: "Ralph will do the leg work."

The group has ruled that no member may hold office unless he is a working artist and both Mr. and Mrs. Organ are amateur artists or as they say "dabblers in water colors and oils."

Mr. Organ's first interest in art was that of cartooning and a cartoon he originated for the Southwestern Bell Telephone monthly magazine as since been widely reprinted in national publications.

The cartoon pictures a fat woman studying a height and age chart as she stands on the scales: "According to this chart I'm not tall enough."

As for painting Mr. Organ is new at the game. He has never had a lesson in his life and exhibited his first painting at the River Art Show last year.

Mrs. Organ, on the other hand is an amateur painter of long standing. Her creations have been exhibited in all 10 shows of the River Art group, in the New Orleans Art assn. exhibits at Isaac Delgado museum, the Texas Fine Arts assn. membership exhibits, the local artists' exhibit at Witte museum, the Art Mart shows in Austin, the Clouderoft Art Colony exhibits and at the Labor day show at Ft. Clark guest ranch.

She's a charter member of the River Art group and has served as chairman of publicity, corresponding secretary and membership vice president.

Painting is strictly a hobby with the Organs and one to be enjoyed only after business hours. He works for the telephone company and she for the OCS library at Lackland AFB.

The man and wife team are readying paintings for the art group's exhibits this year—one on March 6 in the River Art galleries, concurrent with the Texas Watercolor assn. exhibit at the Witte museum, and the annual river show coming up next October.

Other new officers elected by the art group Sunday are Jessie Petty, Evelyn Bond, Violet Short, Peggy Toblin, Carl Hoppe nd Elva Doolittle, vice presidents; Teurah Shaley, recording secretary; Jerry Worth, corresponding secretary, Mable Cheney, treasurer, and Rolla Taylor, parliamentarian.

Virgil Hitchcock Is President Nominee Of Garland Lions Club

Virgil C. (Chuck) Hitchcock currently serving as first vice president of Lions Club, at Garland has been nominated for president of that club, along with other nominees for 1955-56 officers of that organization.

Glen B. Couch was proposed as 1st vice president, William J. Holt, Jr., as 2nd vice president, and Roy C. Mitchell as 3rd vice president.

Others nominated for office were Henry Meazle for secretary treasurer; Homer Johnson, for tail twister, and Cecil Cooper, for Lion tamer.

Nominated for places on the board of directors were J. W. Harrison, Hoyle Morre, Preston Shugart and C. M. Oglesby.

The election will be held May 12. A delegation from the Garland club will attend Lions District 2-y convention in Tyler on May 15 and 16.

Both Hitcock and Couch, nominated for president and first vice president are former McKinney residents. They were prominently identified with young men's activities here and are continuing their civic work as well as Lions Club, in their Garland home.

Seventeen Plano Explorer Scouts — representing the entire membership of that group of Scouts — joined Explorers from McKinney, Farmersville, and Wylie on an all-day field trip to Perrin Field between Sherman and Denison.

Roy Murrell, in charge of Plano's Explorers, and Woodrow Davis were in charge of the local group of the Explorer Adventure. They left here at 7:30 Thursday morning in three cars. The Plano Explorers were told by the officers they were one of the nicest, best-behaved, gentlemanly groups visiting the Perrin Air Field

In addition to Messers. Murrell and Davis, Explorer Scouts from Plano making the trip included Jack O. Harrington, Jr., who drove one car; Bill Fred Slayden, Don Slayden, Larry Davis L. A. Decorations of yellow and white, chosen colors of the bride-to-be, were used effectively and carried out in the table decorations. The table was covered with a white crocheted cloth over yellow. Crystal candelabra with yellow candles, mock orange blossoms and snapdragons beautified the table.

As Miss Sonja Pickett gave a piano selection of the bridal chorus little Laura Jones, of Plano, dressed as a bride, and little Mike Loader dressed as a groom, entered the yard and presented the honoree with a beautiful white bouquet. They were followed by Kay Boren and Betsy Loader, carrying a treasure chest of lovely gifts for the honoree.
